DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-2, 6-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by U.S. Patent 6,461,607 to Farmer.

Claims 1-2 and 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by either of U.S. Patent 5,785,990 to Langrehr or U.S. Patent 5,444,054 to Garleb et al.

Claims 1-2 and 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being clearly anticipated by U.S. Patent 5,827,526 to Dohnalek et al.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over any of Farmer, Garleb et al., and/or Dohnalek et al. in view of U.S. Patent 6,221,392 to Khankari et al., and WO 98/48648.

The primary references teach varying combinations of prebiotics with vitamins and minerals, and probiotics with vitamins and minerals and in fact, Farmer teaches that all three components, i.e. probiotics, prebiotics and vitamins/minerals, are known to be combined and administered in varying types of excipients, such as carbohydrate excipients and lipid excipients.

WO 98/48648 teaches that in many countries the average diet does not contain sufficient levels of iron, zinc, iodine and Vitamin A and that iron chelates are a conventional manner to deliver mineral supplements.

Khankari et al. teaches that microencapsulation is a conventional manner in which to deliver vitamins and minerals.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time the invention was made to formulating a nutritional supplement containing iron, zinc, iodine and Vitamin A with both prebiotics and probiotics for the expected benefit of these ingredients. It would also have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include conventional vitamin/mineral supplements in the compositions of Farmer in a conventional manner.
